Hegland To Run For Unified Post

Sheridan Hegland, 55, of La Mesa has announced his candidacy for the proposed unified Grossmont district board. "My platform is one sentence," he said. "I'll work with anyone who wants our schools to be the best in the state."

Hegland

He cited his eight-year experience as a member of the California state legislature, serving on the education committee. He was chairman of a joint senate-assembly committee which secured more than a hundred revisions in the education code.

Hegland was a major author of the California scholarship act, copied by more than a dozen states. To date it has provided financial assistance to more than sixteen thousand Californians at private and public colleges.

His legislation in 1955 paved the road for the new university campus at La Jolla.

Asked about the unification proposal Hegland said that issue "properly and legally can be decided only by the voters," and that he would spend his time "talking about the issues the new board, if it is elected, must face."

His wife, Edwina, is a former local teacher. For 15 years she was employed by La Mesa-Spring Valley schools and by Grossmont, working with the mentally retarded.

The Heglands have two children, both of whom graduated from Grossmont High School. Their daughter, Mrs. Michael Friedlander, is a graduate of San Diego State College, and son Kenney, a Stanford graduate as was his father, will receive his law degree this June at Berkley.

Since leaving partisan politics four years ago Hegland returned to his original profession, teaching. He has taught and lectured for Grossmont and Palomar colleges, and for University Extension with classes at U.C.L.A., U.C. Santa Barbara, and U.C. San Diego.

A 13-week television series, narrated and authored by him, is currently being carried by several NBC stations and education outlets.

The Heglands have lived in La Mesa since 1944. Prior to his election to the legislature they published community papers in La Mesa, Spring Valley, and Lemon Grove. For his efforts for education he received a "layman of the year" award from Phi Delta Kappa and a PTA life membership from Spring Valley Junior High School.

Lovely Linda Is Lemon Grove's Fairest

Linda Arthur, a 17-year-old Mount Miguel senior, will represent Lemon Grove this year in the Fairest of the Fair contest.

She was selected as "Miss Lemon Grove" April 20 in the annual pageant at Lemon Grove Junior High School. The striking brown-eyed brunette succeeds blonde Diane Wyatt, who reigned last year over Lemon Grove.

A crowd of close to 300 persons watched as the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club-sponsored contest chose its civic representative for 1966.

Linda, a modern dance enthusiast, in winning the contest, qualified to represent her community in the 21st annual county-wide Fairest of the Fair pageant June 8 at the U.S. Grant Hotel. The winner of that pageant will reign over the 77th annual San Diego County Fair in Del Mar, June 24-July 4, and represent San Diego County in the Maid of California contest at the State Fair in Sacramento in August.

The new Miss Lemon Grove is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Arthur Jr. of 1938 Massachusetts.

First runner-up was another Linda—Linda Sue Leonesio, 18, a senior and cheerleader at Mount Miguel. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Leonesio of 7602 Circle Dr.

Melody Phelps, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Phelps of 2605 Mercury Dr., was second runner-up.

Public Hearing Scheduled On Grossmont Unification

A public pre-election hearing will be held June 1 at 8 p.m. in El Cajon Valley High School Cafeteria, 1035 Madison Ave., El Cajon, on the proposal to form a unified school district comprising all the territory included in the Grossmont Union High School District.

The unification plan developed by the State Department of Education, was adopted by the California State Board of Education at its March 11 meeting. The proposal will be submitted to the voters of the area on June 14.

The hearing conducted by William T. H. Tulloch, member of the San Diego County Committee on School District Organization, is held in accordance with Education Code Section 3295, which requires a hearing to be held at least ten days prior to the election to form a unified school district.

The Grossmont "one district" unification plan was developed by the State Department of Education at the direction of the State Board of Education following the declaration of an impasse between it and the County Committee. The impasse developed when the State Board rejected for the second time the County Committee's proposal to form two unified school districts out of the Grossmont Union High School District area.

The "one district" plan as adopted by the State Board of Education includes:

1. One district comprising the Grossmont Union High School District area which includes Alpine Union, Cajon Valley Union, Dulzura, Jamul-Las Flores Union, Lakeside Union, La Mesa-Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, and Santee School Districts.

2. A tax rate established according to Education Code Section 3255.

3. Seven governing board members to be elected from among the registered voters of five trustee areas by the registered voters of the entire school district as follows:

a. Trustee Area No. 1 shall consist of the present Cajon Valley Union School District and shall be represented by two trustees.

b. Trustee Area No. 2 shall consist of the present La Mesa-Spring Valley School District and shall be represented by two trustees.

c. Trustee Area No. 3 shall consist of the present Lemon Grove School District and shall be represented by one trustee.

d. Trustee Area No. 4 shall consist of the present Santee School District and shall be represented by one trustee.

e. Trustee Area No. 5 shall consist of the present Alpine Union School District, Dehesa School District, Dulzura School District, Jamul-Las Flores Union School District and Lakeside Union School District and shall be represented by one trustee.

The maximum voted operating tax rate computed according to current maximum voted rates is approximately $1.98 at the elementary level plus $1.50 at the high school level which provides a maximum tax of $3.48.

Voters going to the polls on June 14 will vote for trustee according to the plan listed in the qualification proposal. Candidates for positions on the governing board may secure papers at the Registrar of Voters which must be filed with the Registrar of Voters on or before April 29, 1966.

Simulated Logs To Be Made In East County

Supervisor Henry Boney not only intends for the County to enjoy prosperity, but he's bringing it to his own district personally.

Sup. Boney is one of the principals developing Blazer Logs, Inc.

Blazer Logs was originated in San Diego as an outgrowth of an established business.

Paper and wax are the main ingredients of Blazer Logs which are manufactured to simulate split-wood fireplace logs. At capacity, the plant will consume some 8,000 tons of materials annually, ranking as one of the major users of waste paper and wax. In essence, the logs are wood since they contain pulp paper which is basically a wood product.

Blazer Logs will be located in the industrial part of El Cajon, on a 1-⅓ acre site at the corner of Vernon Way and Marshall St.

Trepte Construction Company is the general contractor for the 17,000 foot plant. The entire project is expected to cost ¾ million dollars, according to Everett E. Griffith, executive vice president and general manager of Blazer Logs, Incorporated. Griffith is formally an executive with Westgate California and Safeway stores.

In addition to Griffith, officers of the Blazer Log Corporation are Boney, San Diego County Supervisor and founder of Speedee Marts, president; Milton F. Fillius Jr., vice president; and Paul Engstrand, secretary. Carl Roepke, a Burlingame, Calif. food broker, serves with them on the board of directors. Griffith will be the only company officer involved in the corporation's daily business operation.

Griffith said that one Blazer Log will burn for a minimum of 45 minutes to one hour, the equivalent of a like-sized natural wood log. Blazer Logs can be lighted quickly and easily with one match. The entire log will burn evenly and completely, leaving a minimum of residual ash. Its flame is colorful and bright sending a glow of warmth and decorative light into the surrounding areas. Blazer Logs serve not only as a source of fireplace light and heat but as fuel for campers or in place of kindling for larger fires. Their light weight is an asset in reducing shipping costs over widespread areas as well as in customer convenience. Blazer Logs are packed four to a carton and weight eight pounds, materially less than that of major competing products.

Blazer Logs, Incorporated plans to have distribution throughout the 11 Western States by August of this year. Plans also call for the establishment of another plant in the midwest or northwest by the Fall of 1967 and a possible third plant in the Eastern United States by 1968.

The San Diego County market for Blazer Logs have proven greater than the present production capacity, Griffith said, which relies on hand-operated equipment.

The new plant's capacity is 8 million Blazer Logs a year, or 2 million cases.

'Your Son is Missing'

Recently we had an exchange of correspondence with Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin concerning a Lemon Grove family.

The family had been advised by the Department of the Navy that their son was missing in action. The son is a pilot in Vietnam.

The pilot's father told Van Deerlin that there is evidence that his son was captured and that the Navy, though very cooperative in providing all information available, is "not equipped to carry the matter further. After all, their job is to vigorously prosecute the war and bring it to a successful conclusion."

He then asked Van Deerlin these questions:

"Is there any way that more positive and complete information can be obtained through diplomatic channels of the State department, United Nations or other means?

"What steps can be taken to obtain his release and the release of others in a similar situation?

"To whom can I turn for aid in this matter?"

Here is a man suffering the ultimate sacrifice. Instead of condemning the war, the system, or even the enemy, he asks only for informational guidance.

This man is an American!

Van Deerlin, of course, hastened to his aid by inquiring of every agency which could provide answers.

Said Van Deerlin in his communication with us: "Despite his failure to get definite information on a son missing in action, his letter reflects understanding of and consideration for the problems of the Navy and other public agencies involved."

"At the risk of sounding maudlin, it makes you proud to be on the same side with a guy like this."

In our contact with this father, we were astounded by what's happening to families of our Vietnamese war heroes.

'We have been advised by the military," the father said, "not to talk to newspapers because families are being haressed by telephone when detailed stories appear."

It develops that kooks, whose counterparts taking part in anti-war parades, sit-ins and other Vietnik activities, are calling parents of missing, wounded or klled soldiers to tell them how wrong the war is.

A family with a crisis involving a loved one, needs telephone calls like that about like it needs leprosy.

Such activities provide evidence that those who would weaken our will to resist world domination by Godless leaders would stoop to anything.

It also advertises the fact that if such insensitive tactics are employed to discourage individual families regarding the Vietnamese war, there are other devices, too horrible to contemplate, waiting for us if we go to our knees before the Godless conspiracy.

Let's prosecute the war with vigor!

Brown's Trouble is a Guy Named Yorty

No matter how Gov. Pat Brown paints it, his administration is in trouble with the party. A wellspring of the governor's trouble is Sam Yorty, mayor of the City of Los Angeles.

Yorty, a Democrat, is telling all who'll listen that he can bring fiscal stability back to the state.

Yorty then voices the concern of many Democrats and most Republicans concerning the State's rising tax cut. Yorty has

Spiritual Basis

The spiritual basis for overcoming sin will be taken up at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

"Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: . . . Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not." Theses verses from I John will be included among the opening readings in the Bible Lessons on "Everlasting Punishment."

This Sunday

The real test of a Christian is not that he worships the risen Christ on Easter . . . but does he let the living Christ reign within him day after day and year after year?

RAMBLIN'

WITH ED LOOP

Our typewriter service man knows his business; he should, because he has been at it for 39 years. But he is beginning to get real 'sticky' about servicing some of what he calls the "Mickey Mouse" machines. Most of them are foreign portables or some of our U. S. made light-weight machines. He is spectacularly profane about one or two adding machines, too. Recently I took him a machine for check-over, and he found four wooden plugs under the carriage rails, he explained they were there to absorb shock while the machines were in transit. He also said that people should buy their machines at office machine houses or office supply stores where they are CHECKED OVER before they are sold. He claims that if you buy a machine in a super drug store you can't expect service on it. "After all," he says, "they know about aspirins and bromos, but they dont know a type bar from a space bar."

Speaking of service, try Grove Office Supply, 780 Broadway for your office supplies. Come in or call us at 463-4494. Bring us your lame and halting adders or typewriters and we'll see if our serviceman thinks they are worthy of his talents.

been aided and abetted, although rather obliquely, by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, who himself was on the verge of entering the governor's race early this year. Unruh, too, is pecking at Brown on budget and tax matters.

Meanwhile, back at the Republican gubernatorial ranch, the logic and experience of former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher appears to be front-running the script-following movie favorite Ronald Reagan.

The internecine battle between Gov. Brown and Mayor Yorty will probably result in the widening of the growing rift among the state's Democrats. Not many observers believe Yorty can beat Brown but they are aware that a great number of the losers supporters may swing over to the Republican candidate in the general election. Yorty feels that this rebellion is strong enough to scuttle the party this year.

So certain certain is he that the rebellion exists that he called a news conference in Los Angeles last week and said flatly, "If I don't beat Brown in the Democratic primary, Democrats in California will lose the governorship to the Republicans, as they have lost both Senate seats."

IN AN EMERGENCY...you'll save moments that matter if you remember these important telephone tips:

- Dial Emergency numbers direct.
- Keep a list of emergency numbers near your phones.
- Emergency numbers are listed in the front pages of your phone book. Write the ones for your community in the spaces provided.
- Remember to give your location and the number of the phone you're calling from.
- If for any reason you can't dial the emergency number direct, dial "0" for Operator. She's always there to help you.

I always try to give the person I'm calling time to stop what he's doing and get to the phone. 7 rings just about does it.

Guarding your telephone service from interruption is always a prime objective of people at Pacific Telephone. In spite of our efforts, however, breakdowns do occasionally occur as a result of severe storm, accidental damage, etc.

When this happens, as it did in La Mesa last month, emergency crews are on the scene in minutes.

The men pictured above are making emergency repairs to an underground telephone cable accidentally damaged last month during a street expansion project. Crews worked around the clock until all customer services affected by the failure were restored to normal. Pacific Telephone's local management team thanks the community for its patience and understanding.

Questionaires Sent To 1965 Graduates Of Mount Miguel

The counselling office at Mount Miguel High School has sent out letters and questionnaires to all graduates of the Class of 1965.

Purpose of the questionnaire is to find out what the graduates are doing at present, and how high school could have prepared them more fully.

Other than routine questions dealing with employment, military service, schooling, and marriage, the questionnaire asked such questions as these to get graduates' opinions: "How did your high school help you?" and "How could your high school have helped you more?" Such questions are helpful in evaluating subjects offered as the school continues to make any revisions throughout the year.

"It is hoped," said John Kleinfelter, Class of 1965 counselor, "that all graduates of the Class of 1965 will respond to the questionnaire, with our promise that a summary report will be made to them before home-coming next year." Kleinfelter also extended an invitation for graduates to visit the campus at any time.

Although mailing labels on these questionnaires are addressed to the parents of the graduates, the school requests that the graduates themselves answer the questions.

State General Fund Shows Ten Per Cent Increase

The State's General Fund cash receipts for the first nine months of the current fiscal year totaled $1,541,434,996.

This is 10 per cent above the figure for the corresponding period during the 1964-65 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported recently.

The accelerated collection of sales taxes is responsible for much of the increase, he said.

At the same time, expenditures were $1,915,880,107, up 11 per cent, Cranston said.

During the past month $150 million in temporary loans were repaid, he said, leaving a balance of $171 million to be repaid before June 30.

The cash balance of the General Fund on March 31, was $6,967,946, compared to $15,303,377 a year ago.

Major revenue sources during the first nine months of the following receipts:

Sales tax, $828,854,902; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, $317,475,763; personal income tax, $83,774,419; cigarette tax, $56,885,553; inheritance tax, $73,965,735, and liquor taxes, $51,032,303.

Major expenditures were in the following categories:

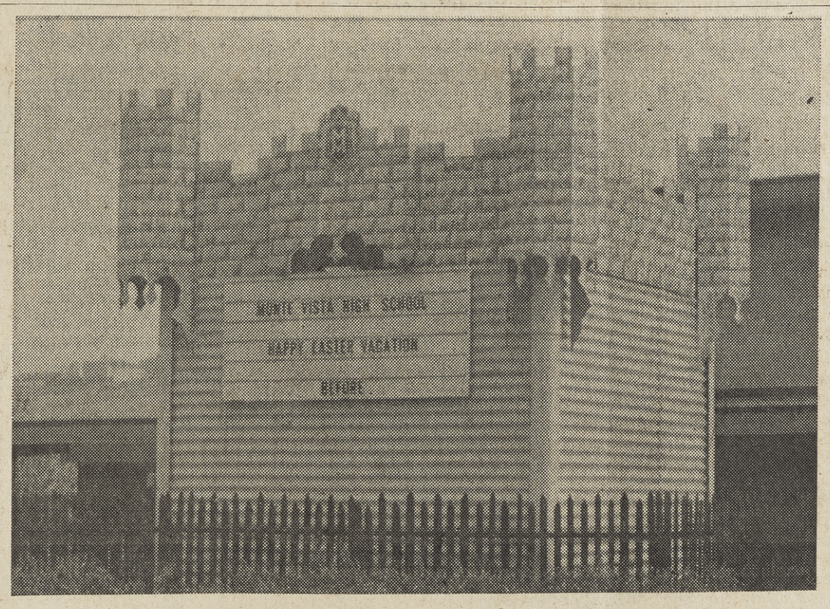
School apportionments, $768,080.52; University of California, $153,689,531; old age security, $125,084,583; aid to families with dependent children, $92,683,755, and bond interest and redemption, $73,502,075.

Top Scholar

Patricia Hedquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hedquist, 2847 Massachusetts Ave., Lemon Grove, has been awarded a state scholarship for ranking among the top high school scholars in California.

She attends Helix High School.

Export cargo shipments through the Port of San Diego for the 1965-66 fiscal year are averaging almost 21% ahead of the same period in the previous year, the San Diego Unified Port District has reported.



MONARCH CASTLE — The Monarchy has a castle. Monte Vista High's nickname is 'Monarchs" but it has lacked a castle to carry out the school's theme. That has been changed. Pictured above is the Monarch's "Castle", a transformed and decorated water cooler tower for the school's air-conditioning system. The "castle project" was financed entirely from school funds raised by the Boy's Federation and other clubs.

Records Tumble As MV Rolls Over El Capitan

Three Monte Vista High School records toppled Friday as the Monarchs smashed El Capitan's Vaqueros, 97-34, in a Grossmont League track meet.

Both school hurdles marks were broken and the shot put record also fell by the wayside.

Jerry Nierengarten started it all off for the Monarchs when he completed the 120-yard hurdles in :15.5, snapping the old mark of :15.6, held and set by Nierengarten earlier this year.

Phil Luque repeated Nierengarten's feat in the longer hurdle race (180 lows), timing :20.8 to break the previous mark of :21.1, set by Lynn Chenoweth in 1962.

Rick Geer completed the record-breaking performances by tossing the shot 52 feet 4½ inches. He held the old mark of 51-4½.

Geer also tied his record of 158-7 in the discus in another win.

Other individual victories scored by Monarchs were Taylor Copping in the 100-yard dash (:10.5), 220-runner Chuck Camp (:23.), Danny Ungricht in the 440 (:52.3), Bruce Masse in the 880 (2:03.2), two miler Dave Matheny (9:58), pole vaulters Camp and Leo Grillo (11-0), triple jumper Bob Shook (40-11), long jumper Nierengarten (21-0) and the Monarch 880 relay team of Ungricht, Copping, Camp and Luque (1:33.5).

Caliente Derby Hopefuls To Try Tecolote Purse In Sat. Feature

The featured Tecolote Purse at Caliente Saturday will give some of the sophomore hopefuls for the 1966 Caliente Derby a chance to prove their worthiness.

The mile and 70-yard race climaxes a succession of trials which so far have failed to produce any one standout and should have a solid bearing on how the Derby field shapes up.

William Vanderlin's Lady Esther, a feature event winner last week, will probably enter the competition as will Alpen's Mate, second-place finisher to Lady Esther.

Another good entrant could be Mi Belle. Others expected are Jet Patrol, Electro Kahl, Pink Snip, Trebor Bill, Extra Measure, Mortgage Broker and Kredibility.

WATER TUNNELS — There are 92 miles of tunnels within the total 700-mile-network of the Colorado Aqueduct. They carry a total of about a billion gallons of water a day to the member agencies of the Metropolitan Water District. San Diego County, which joined MWD in 1946, is the largest single user of Colorado River water brought through the tunnels.

Colorado River Makes For Prosperous So. California

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles on the San Diego County Water Authority — its operation, history, relationship to water districts and the California Water Plan.)

Ten years before the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California began to draw water from the mighty Colorado, the river began getting less mighty.

1931 saw the beginning of a period of general lower "virgin flow" than had been recorded in the past, and there has been generally less water in the Colorado ever since.

Yet the river has yielded enough water through the famed MWD Colorado River Aqueduct—one of the seven modern engineering wonders of the United States—to be accorded major credit for making possible virtually everything from Disneyland to SeaWorld, whole residential communities and the greatest freeway complex in the world.

Five huge pumping stations lift Colorado River water 1,617 feet over the mountains between us and the river proper. Then it flows by gravity, dropping about 9 inches per mile over most of the 300 mile route to San Diego County.

Flow Lessens

While the river flows less than at recorded highs, there are today an increasing number of demands on this Southern California supply.

At the moment, most of the areas who have the rights to make use of the water in the river cannot do so because, like the crisis-stricken east this past summer, they lack the facilities required for transporting it to the point of need

Southern Californians began planning the Colorado Aqueduct in the 1920s, built it in the 1930s, and began pumping water through it in 1941. Today the Colorado is the main source of water for most of Southern California.

California is now taking 5.4 million acre feet of water a year from the river, though by United States Supreme Court decree the state is entitled to only 4.4 million acre feet.

Water Plan

The California Water Plan will come to the rescue just as planned projects in Arizona and Colorado are scheduled to go into operation, requiring California to cut back to its legal limit.

The Colorado remains one of the major rivers in the United States and the largest in the Southwest. Its main stream flows for 1,700 miles within the United States and 50 miles in Mexico, where it empties into the Gulf of California. With its tributaries, it moves through or forms the boundaries between seven states — Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico, Nevada, Arizona, and California.

The Colorado River Basin covers one-twelfth of the entire land of the continental United States, encompassing a total of 252,000 square miles—with 250,000 square miles within the United States and 2,000 square miles in Mexico.

Melted Snow

The river originates in the Rocky Mountains, rushing as melted snow down 14,000-feet-high peaks, traveling many miles in gorges and chasms cut hundreds and sometimes thousands of feet below adjacent mesas and plateaus. Most famous of the Colorado River canyons, of course, is Grand Canyon—more than a mile deep and one of the world's most celebrated scenic spectacles.

Through the lower 200 miles of its length, the river passes down through relatively flat mesas and valleys—the only river with tributaries entirely within the United States which travels for the greater part of its course through desert country.

Lee Ferry

And while in the future more and more people will be dipping into the Colorado for various kinds of sustenance from it, the ever-watchful Colorado River Board points out that the average historic flow of the Colorado River at Lee Ferry during the 69-year period 1896-1964, covered by records or estimates published by the United States Geological Survey, was 13,190,000 acre feet per year. And it is estimated that if there had been no man-made diversions or storage, flow at Lee Ferry would have averaged 14,878,000 acre feet per annum.

The records show that during the last 10 years the flow has been less than the recorded averages as a consequence of having less water to begin with and more demand for the water that remains from all points along its route including Mexico.

Bumper Crop of Mosquitos Predicted By Public Health

The San Diego Department of Public Health yesterday predicted a bumper crop of mosquitoes this summer.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said the health department's Mosquito Control Service is engaged in its most intensive mosquito control program in recent years.

"The problem this year is far more extensive than usual," Dr. Askew said, "because hundreds of ponds have been left throughout the county by our heavy winter rains."

The job of the mosquito control men on public lands, he said, is to keep water on the move or to eliminate standing water if possible by filling with earth the depressions where it accumulates or by draining pools and ponds that will not dry up quickly.

Potential Sources

River bottoms throughout the coastal slope of the county are now potential sources of mosquito breeding. Dr. Askew said water is standing in a great many potholes in river beds.

To drain away this water, mosquito control men have hoveled out channels to improve the drainage system in the Otay south of Chula Vista, the upper Sweetwater near Spring Valley as well as the lower Sweetwater, the San Diego River from Santee through Mission Valley, and the San Luis Rey River bottom from Highway 101 to Camp Pendleton.

Water is also standing in many creek beds. Dr. Askew said mosquito control men have been clearing weeds and digging drainage channels to release water in Rose Canyon, Tecolote Creek, Loma Alta Creek, Chollas Creek, Alvarado Canyon and a number of La Jolla canyons. Forster Creek in the El Cajon area is also scheduled for this type of work.

Drainage ditches in Nestor, in the Winter Gardens area, along Highway 80, Fletcher Parkway and Jackson Dr., and in Vista. Fallbook, Escondido and Rancho Sante Fe are being surveyed and cleared where necessary. In El Cajon, mosquito control men dug 2,000 feet of drainage ditch near Anza School to carry standing water into the El Cajon drainage system.

Earth Fill

Dr. Askew said that when it is impossible to fill ponds or pools with earth or to drain away standing water, mosquito control men plant the ponds with fish called Gambusia, which eat mosquito wigglers in the water. He said this has been necessary along all the river bottoms where many pools are so deep they are likely to remain throughout the summer. Fish have also been planted in creeks, drainage ditches, canyon pools, coastal lagoons and many deep ponds that have collected from the winter rains on mesas as far inland as Poway.

"This year," Dr. Askew said, "the heavy rains swept the mosquito fish out of many of the streams where we normally collect them. This has left us with fewer fish and many more ponds than usual. We have not had enough fish to put an adequate number in any one pond to solve the immediate mosquito breeding problem. In time, of course, the fish population will build up and will again control the mosquito breeding."

The shortage of fish is complicating mosquito control work. until the fish can control mosquito breeding, Dr. Askew said mosquito control men will have to maintain a constant check on pools and ponds for possible mosquito breeding and spray the water with insecticide whenever necessary.

Insecticides Help

He said the Buena Vista, San Elijo, San Dieguito and Sorrento lagoons along the coast always require some treatment with insecticide in summer months, even when the fish population is normal. This year more insecticide spraying will be necessary, because mosquito control men in the Encinitas area expect the Bataquitos Lagoon to dry up considerably later than usual.

Coronado and Mission Beach were not seriously affected by the winter rains, Dr. Askew said. Mosquito control work scheduled for these two areas is primarily routine spraying of street drains with insecticides.

The Mosquito Control Service maintains light traps in National City, San Ysidro, Coronado, El Cajon, Escondido, Oceanside, Carlsbad, Del Mar and the City of San Diego to determine what type of mosquitoes may appear in any area. If there is any buildup in mosquito population, the mosquitoes are traced to their breeding source. The breeding area is then filled with earth or drained, if possible, or else is treated with insecticide and planted with fish.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

GOVERNOR PAT BROWN

Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, wife of the governor of California, is visiting the San Diego area and is making several appearances today, the San Diego County Committee to Re-elect Governor Brown announced.

Mrs. Brown is meeting with women supporters of Governor Brown at a public coffee at the Valencia Park home of Mrs. Catherine Thomas, 5254 Velma Terrace and at a public tea at the home of Mrs. Amos Sommers, 10011 Fuerte Dr., Mt. Helix.

FRANK M. JORDAN

Secretary of State Frank M Jordan has named former Governor Goodwin J. Knight the statewide chairman for his final campaign for re-election.

"Goodie Knight knows as much about state government as any man in California," said Jordan, "and I am as grateful as I am proud to have him head my last campaign for office."

About 80 major crops are grown on a large commercial scale in California.

Politics In Brief

WILLARD HARPER

Willard Harper, thirty-year eacher, opened his June 7th primary campaign this week for Superintendent of Public Instruction. "I wish to commend he Masonic Order for its conribution to Public Schools Week and with them to emphasize that education is a cooperative effort of parents and eachers. By decreasing class ize we will have more efective teaching, counselling and parent participation," said Harper.

"The stuffy old educational philosophy held by the incumbent is one of the causes of the Watts and Marin County riots," alleged Harper, for twelve years a teacher in Watts at Jordan High School. "We desperately need local vocational, agricultural and technical training beginning in high schools for all students who are not college bound," Harper insisted. "I favor immediate U. N. negotiations for peace in Southeast Asia and reallocation of Federal Funds for massive vocational education," Harper continued.

HAROLD MARLOWE

Harold C. "Hal" Marlowe, long active in Democratic Party affairs and most recently Assistant Director of Congressional Affairs for the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D. C., is a candidacy for the Democratic Party nomination for Secretary of State of California.

The 43 year old former FBI agent has managed a number of political campaigns in California, but this represents Marlowe's first time to personally stand for election, he said.

As the former Undersheriff of Los Angeles County, Marlowe includes in his administrative experience, the supervision of almost 5,000 men with a working Sheriff's Department budget of nearly 30 million dollars a year.

Harry Bucalstein will be the special speaker at the Beth Sar Shalom Fellowship meeting at the Vasa Club, 3094 El Cajon Blvd., San Diego Friday at 8 p.m. He will be speaking on the topic: "Thousands of Jews are Following the Messiah."

Applications Invited For Nominations To Academies

Applications for nominations next year to the four United States service academies have been invited from qualified California young men by U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel.

High school students who will graduate by July 1, 1967 and college undergraduates, both within age limits of 17 to 22 as of the date of entrance, were offered by the senior California senator a chance to attend the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, or U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York, in the classes of 1971.

The California lawmaker will make his nominations on the strength of scores in scholastic examinations given by the U. S. Civil Service Commission and to be held held at numerous places in California next July 11. Kuchel has two places to fill at West Point, three at Annapolis and one at Colorado Springs and will designate ten aspirants for further screening by the Merchant Marine Academy.

Kuchel said that California youths interested in competing for a chance to attend one of the service institutions should advise him promptly and fixed his office deadline on receiving applications at June 6.
